

Robinson earns junior double

BLACKBURN teenager Simon Robinson has clinched two junior categories of the ANWCC Championships after taking second in class at Accrington Motor Sport Club's national B autosolo at the weekend.

The 16-year-old, who is a member of both Accrington Motor Sport Club and the under-17 Motor Club North West, was fifth overall at Blackburn and Darwen Services on Sunday in a Peugeot 106.

The result was enough to claim second place overall in the ANWCC All-Rounders Championship, as well as victory in the junior drivers category. Robinson also took first place in the junior production car autotest section.

His performances this year have helped the under-17 Motor Club North West to third in the Inter-

Club Championship, with Accrington finishing fourth.

Simon's father David was second overall, and first in his class, in Sunday's National B Autosolo.

He finished joint sixth in the ANWCC All-Rounders Championship and third in the autosolo category.

Steve Johnson was the winner of the All-Rounds Championship after finishing third in Sunday's event, and first in class in a Nissan Micra.

Johnson was also fifth in the ANWCC Championship's autosolo section for 2012, and fifth in the stage rally category.

Steve Lewis, of Clitheroe and District Motor Club, was fourth in the weekend national B autosolo.

Fellow Accrington Motor Sport Club member Steve Terry was the winner of Sunday's production car autotest at the M65 service station, with fellow Accrington Motor Sport Club members Daniel Barker and John Paul Morris third and fourth respectively.

Terry finished fourth in the junior section of the 2012 championship, as well as fourth in the junior production car autotest category.

Hazel Johnson, daughter of Steve, was third in Sunday's national B and clubman's autotest to finish third overall in the ANWCC Championship's junior drivers section. She was also fifth in the senior autotest category for 2012, and fifth in the junior production car autotest category.

Accrington Motor Sport Club's Philip Clegg was second overall and first in class in Sunday's clubman's autosolo.

THIRD PLACE Hazel Johnson in action on her way to a podium